back to the races at Laurel and captured the seventh race, a flight of a mile and one-sixteenth for 3year-olds and upwards, in impreslive style. Yesterday's appearance brought The Porter out of semiretirement as, barring a start in the Havre De Grace Handicap about wo weeks ago which was admitedly more or less of a workout, it was his first really serious effort Windsor meeting, July 18.

The Porter's easy victory over an extremely small field shows what a clever old campaigner this baby really is. (Not that any of the soalled wise ones passed him up.) idden cleverly by Jimmy Butwell, mmy's second winning of the day. the first being when he won with Jean Bullant, a comparative long shot in that few, if any of the talent, were on him. The Porter got off a stride behind Top Sergeant and on even terms with Serapis. Super, heavily played for place in and on even terms with Serapis. Chates Super, heavily played for place in the mutuels, got away poorly and was never in the running. Thereas. The Porter Finished Strong.

Top Sergeant raced around to the r pole with The Porter and rards; the Cherry running evenly, stride for about a length behind. At Gray Gables the half the positions were the same but at the three-quarter pole Top Sarge was noticeably slowing while both Serapis and The Porter were coming on. Serapts took the lead for about twenty yards but couldn't hold it. The Porter just naturally picked up his heels, dusted 'em off a bit and blew past the finish line five lengths ahead grinning at the Three Wise Men in the judge's stand. Serapis grabbed second while Sarge, a bit blown, saved third easily. The aforementioned Three Wise Men came in for a healthy bit of razzing immediately after the third Byrdmen Hope to Repeat 1921 Victory Over Meehan's Eleven.

FACE HARD CONTEST

George Washington Hopes to Trim Western Maryland By Decisive Score.

University of Maryland's football guad will leave tonight for Syrause, N. Y., where Byrd's proteges are scheduled to hook up with the Orange and Black eleven next Saturday in what will most certainly be one of the hardest games on the College Park far-from-soft schedule. The Byrdmen hope to repeat their victory of last season, when they staged one of the biggest upsets of the season by handing Coach Mee-han's eleven an entirely unexpected 10-to-7 beating. "Untz" Brewer's unerring toe was responsible for that victory, and followers of the College Park eleven expect his kicking to play as big a part in Saturday's game.

This afternoon the squad will be before the Saturday game, but t light practice and signal drill will be held in Syracuse tomorrow afternoon. Byrd expects to take along a squad of twenty-three players.

Brewer, Plassnig, Groves and either McQuade or Paganucci will start in the backfield, according to Curly's plans last night. Ed Pugh, former Tech High School fullback. is also a certainty for one of the wing positions. Byrd was particu-larly pleased with Pugh's work in the Rutgers game last Saturday.
The way this youth handled himself in his first big college game gave promise that he has the makings of a star, and Curly quite frankly admits that he expects great things of him. Next season, Curly thinks, Pugh will be clever enough to be ranked with the best

The College Park freshmen play Charlotte Hall at College Park next Saturday. A game with Central High School has also been added to will be payed November 13 in the Central stadium and is considered the biggest game on the schedule of either team.

George Washington's eleven put in a hard day yesterday, but will gut in a harder one today, according to Bryan Morse, athletic director at the downtown institution.

The Buff and Blue eleven meets Western Maryland next Saturday at Union League Park and the Morse men have great hopes of turning in a victory. The Hatcheiltes pisyee the Marylanders a 7-to-7 tie last year, but as George Washington is at least a 100 per cent improved over last year, it is not unlikely that their hopes may be realized. Morse was undecided last night as to the make-up of his backand 3-year-olds; 514 furlongs; Fri-field, but Schofield, Springston, Man and J. Loehler are considered most probable starters.

CHAMPION BEATEN BY MRS.F.C.LETTS

Chicago Woman Springs Big Surprise in Deal, N. J., Tourney.

PUTTING DECIDES

Alexa Stirling, Present Champion, Continues Her Brilliant Play.

DEAL, N. J., Oct. 5 .- The most serious British contender for the ational women's golf title has been eliminated. Cecil Leitch, England's wonder girl, who had hoped to add the American championship to the Canadian and British honors, was defeated in the second round by Mrs. F. C. Letts, of Chicago, on the home green in the second round of play here today.

Mrs. Letts, who formerly held the Western title, played a spectacular and nervy game, coming from be-hind under tremendous odds and BIRDS BEATEN BY
